WOW! Can you believe tomorrow is Thanksgiving! And in less than two weeks we'll be getting together at Il Forno's for our annual holiday party. This year has just disappeared: I don't know if it happened while I was watching our 401K disappear or if it was because I was inordinately busy this year, but nevertheless, the year is practically gone.

Before any more of the year disappears though, we all need to get our reservations for the annual Holiday Party into Andrea. Hopefully the more central location will bring in a big response from the members and we'll have one of our best turn outs in years. We need to give the restaurant a head count by December 1st, so don't tarry in responding to this epistle. Details of the event, including menu and some of our planned events, are on the next page.

New for this year is an "identify the baby contest": we'll need you to bring a baby photo (age 5 or under) that will be posted for everyone to try to guess who's who. We'll have a special prize for the person who correctly identifies the most baby photos.

Directions:

Il Frono is conveniently located on Route 100 in Somers, NY, just off Rt. 684. There is also easy back road access for those so inclined to drive a little car that day. For more directions call or check out the website listed above.
