

GOF Mk 82
Cape May, NJ
"MG's in Victoriana"
September 19—23, 2007

GOF Mk 82 comes hot on the heels of our Bocce Tournament so I hope you're using this time to prepare your little cars, not only to bring to Southworth's, but also for the short journey south to New Jersey. Cape May is south of the Mason-Dixon (does that make them Rebels?) and New York City and right on the Atlantic ocean. We've been assured that the water will be at warm summer temperatures so be sure to bring your surf boards and woodies. Ooops, park the woodies and load up the MG's. Don't forget the sack of cash for the casino's

Although Cape May is in the backyard of our New Jersey members (1st time they've caught a break), it will require a daring dash through the Big Apple for most of us. A daunting task in a real car so let's get together at Southworth's and plan a strategy for getting our little cars through or around the megapolopolis.

Get out your maps and your calendars; Get your doctor's notes together to send in to work so you can get a couple days off (for us poor working stiffs) and start planning your routes and figure out what day you'll be leaving. After consuming mass quantities of food and beverage at Southworth's, we'll all get together to try to put together some caravans for the journey south.

Information for Tours of Cape May On Your Own:
Picturesque Cape May holds the distinction of being the oldest seashore resort in the United States and one of the most unique. Stretching 20 miles out to sea, this oasis of ambiance is a refuge from the hectic 20th century American lifestyle. It is a place to relax, to enjoy the Atlantic Ocean, the city's charming Mall, and most of all, to view the largest collection of authentic Victorian structures in the nation. The most distinctive feature about Cape May is its Victorian heritage, carefully retained in several hundred beautifully manicured houses throughout the city. The Victorian Era occurred from 1837 to 1901 when Queen Victoria ruled over England. The impact of her reign was felt throughout the world and in Cape May which was then considered to be among the top vacation resorts in the United States.

Cape May has enjoyed a major renaissance in the last decade. Many Victorian structures adorned with carved barge boards, ornate verandas and crown-molded dormers, have been restored. Most of the homes, hotels, shops and other buildings were constructed in the late 1800's at the prime of the Victorian era. Today small gingerbread houses stand beside magnificent Victorian showplaces. We urge you to make the time to tour the town and not to miss sites such as The Southern Mansion or the Emileu Physik Estate Museum, the Cape May Lighthouse and the Hereford Inlet Lighthouse and Gardens. There are restaurants for all tastes and pocketbooks throughout the city. Seafood steals the show in Cape May, but meat lovers won't be disappointed either. We'll have a list of places to go and recommended restaurants in the Registration packets.

Don't even think of putting this newsletter down until you've called the Southworth's to let them know you're coming to the Third Annual Fred Kirk Memorial Bocce Tournament. Thanks to my tardiness in preparing this epistle you've precious little time to RSVP your intentions. You'll definitely want to be there to find out if Curt Beck & Patricia Silvestre will be able to defend their championship or was last year a fluke? Word has it they have been secretly practicing so you'll need to bring your A-game to knock them off their lofty perch.

As usual, we will once again be playing with Fred's balls so there should be no complaints of inferior equipment. Tuck assures me that the green will be exquisitely manicured for the days activities so that your balls will roll true.

Plan on joining Tuck & Lin and the rest of the NY/

Conn family for a great day of fun on the green as we vie to see who can get closest to the pauli. And don't forget the other sports at which we all excel—eating, drinking and socializing. Tuck and Lin are supplying the main course and drinks (wine, beer and sodas). Please RSVP ASAP at 203-544-8188 and leave a callback number just in case. Let them know what you'll be able to bring (nibbles, salad, dessert, etc.)

Be prepared to discuss travel plans for GOF Mk 82.
